

lusus naturae are creatures of the Nightmare Realm. They are part animal, part fey, part monster, and part decay. Definitely NOT who you want to spend your Friday nights hanging out with!

Team Nightmares

(a group of specially trained babysitters) is doing all it can to keep our charges (and ourselves) safe from lusus naturae. We want you on the team.

What lusus naturae or other creatures have you encountered in the world, in books, or in your imagination?

Share what you know about the creature in this form. Team Nightmares will add your piece to our Babysitting Nightmares Manual at BabysittingNightmares.com.

Snap a photo and email it to author Kat Shepherd at katshepherdbooks@gmail.com or share it online with the hashtag #BabysittingNightmares.

As always, protect your privacy. The Night Queen is watching!
